INTERVIEWER: PRIOR TO THE INTERVIEW SESSION, PLEASE REFER TO THE RESPONDENT'S RECORDS IN ORDER TO OBTAIN ANSWERS TO THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS.

1. What type of cancer is the respondent being treated for?

2. What year was the respondent diagnosed with this type of cancer?

3. Is the clinical research study that the respondent is enrolled in a phase I, I/II, II, III, or other? (Please mark the PRIMARY study in which the respondent is enrolled.)

Phase I.....

Phase I/II.....

Phase II.....

Phase III.....

Other: Specify _____

4. During this study, how many cycles of chemotherapy has the respondent received (by the end of today)?

5. Prior to enrolling in the clinical oncology study, how many different types of chemotherapy had the respondent received?

NOTE TO INTERVIEWERS:

For any question that has a “depends” option listed, do NOT read that option. However, if the respondent replies in this way (i.e., depends/varies by circumstance), check the “depends” box and ask the listed follow-up question.

For any place where “(cancer center)” appears, substitute the appropriate name of the institution at which the interview is taking place.

READ THE FOLLOWING:Introduction

In the research setting, often doctors and institutions can receive money from or invest money in drug companies, sometimes the same drug companies that they are performing research studies for. These financial ties can come from many sources, which can include receiving money for consultations to the drug company, speaking at a company-sponsored event, owning stock in the company, or receiving money in the form of payments for a patent. We are interested in your opinions about these kinds of financial ties of both research doctors and cancer centers. You may not know the answers to some questions and that is okay. You may not have thought about some topics before today, and that is okay too. Just try to answer the questions as best you can.

Disclaimer

The questions you will answer today do not in any way imply that that your research doctor or cancer center has any of these kinds of financial ties. In fact, we do not have any information about financial ties of the researchers at your cancer center or the cancer center itself. We will not give any of the information you provide to us to your doctors or the cancer center. All of your responses will be kept confidential, and answering these questions will have no effect on your treatment here.
